In this issue of Cub Corner magazine we are going to talk about worshipping God. Do you remember the story of Daniel? He got thrown to the lions because he worshipped God. We're also going to tell the story of the first people ever to come and worship Jesus, right after He was born. They weren't great, powerful people, just humble shepherds. But God chose them to worship Jesus. He chose you too.

Do you know why God created us? It's because God wants to be loved and worshipped. It's our job; it's the reason He created us!

Here's a hoppy game, see if you can find me on every page!

Cub Corner is a ministry of Voice Of God Recordings, focused on children 12 years and younger. We are devoted to helping parents build a strong Christian foundation in their children, through the Lord Jesus Christ.

WHY ARE WE HERE?

Have you ever thought about why people who live in the most remote regions of the world, who have never heard about Jesus, still worship? They have never learned about God creating the heavens and the earth, or Moses parting the Red Sea, or even about Jesus dying on the cross, but they worship god anyway. Many of them worship the sun, or the moon, or even animals as their gods, but they still worship. No one ever told them to start worshipping, but they do anyway. I wonder why.

Brother Branham said:

"Fore that creation can be in there, that creation to make you desire that, there has to be a Creator to create that creation. Is that right? Well, there's got to be God then somewhere, that's putting that desire in your heart to desire that. And if He has put that desire there, then there's got to be something out there to fulfill that desire that you got. Do you see? The deep calling to the deep..."
53-0216

Just like when you get hungry and need to eat, the need to worship is also in you. God put it there, because He wants us to worship Him. The word "god" actually means, "an object of worship."

We should trust God for everything, ask Him for our healing when we are sick, trust Him to provide the things we need, and believe that He forgives our sins. We know that He will take care of us and keep us safe, and protect the people we love. He wants us to ask for those things, but remember, that's not why He created us. He made us to worship Him. As you go through your day, don't forget your main job - worship God.

HOW DO YOU WORSHIP HIM?

You think about Him all the time, tell Him you love Him, you read His Word, and listen to His Voice.

You can also worship God by singing to Him, talking about Him, looking for Him, and praying to Him.

God loves you and He wants you to show Him that you love Him back. Remember, that's why He created you.

Dear journal,

I am sooooo excited! Today is the opening day of "Still Waters" camp! Brother Joseph decided to let some of us kids from around the Jeffersonville area preview the camp that they have been working on, and I got chosen to come; I can't wait!

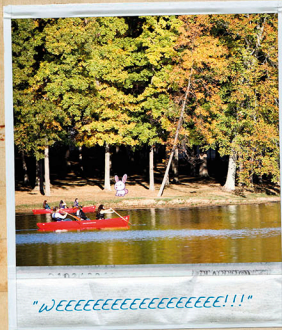

Journal,

It's Friday night and I have so much to write but I'm pretty tired, so I'll make it short. After we checked in, and picked out our bunk, we were able to look around the camp. There is so much to do, I don't know how I'm going to be able to fit it all in.

Journal,

It's early Saturday morning. Just a few minutes ago, the chaperones read a Psalm to us, then they read out of the book of Romans. It was very inspiring, and reminded us all why we were here - to get closer to God. They told us that today was going to be a very fun day with tons of stuff to do.

They asked us, "Who is willing to give up 15 minutes to do nothing except think about God?" 15 minutes doesn't seem like very much time. He is going to give us a whole day full of games and fun, I could surely give Him 15 minutes. I raised my hand and said I would do it.

Saturday afternoon,

I already have a bunch of stuff to write and it's only lunch time on Saturday! I went fishing and caught a huge fish, it was AWESOME! Then I went out on a boat. As soon as I got off, I got on a canoe with my best friend. It was sooooo fun.

Journal,

It's Saturday night and I am exhausted. You won't believe what a day I had. After lunch, I played paintball for the first time in my life. It is scary, but super fun. My team won, but I got hit pretty quick, next time I play, I won't be so brave right at the beginning.

After paintball, I went to the archery range. They said I was one of the best shooters at the camp. I nearly hit the bullseye! I was starting to feel a little tired, but I wanted to make sure I got to try everything, so I signed up for rifle shooting. But then I remembered something really important. I had almost forgotten about my 15 minutes that I promised God.

I went to a quiet place where I could barely hear anything, and sat down. I looked at my watch to make sure I got in my whole 15 minutes. It was 2:45. I closed my eyes and started thanking God for such a beautiful day. Before I knew it, I looked down at my watch and it was 3:15. A half hour had passed and I didn't even notice. I was so focused on God, I completely lost track of time. I felt more energy in me than I had felt all weekend. I ran back to the shooting range and found out that I'm a pretty good shot, even though I couldn't hit the paper squirrel target in the eye like Brother Branham did.

Then our plans changed. Brother Joseph told everyone that at 4:00 all activities would stop, and everyone should find a quiet place to think about God. Everyone should be alone with their Bibles. It was incredible. I felt like the whole world stopped for that hour. It was so peaceful, I felt really, really close to God.

After supper, a Brother from Ukraine gave us his testimony. It was so sweet. He was such a humble person, and what he said really made me think about surrendering everything I have to God. Then we went to the bonfire area and sang for hours. It was so peaceful singing around the fire. I even learned a couple new songs.

Journal (Sunday),

First thing this morning, the chaperones read us some more out of the Bible and talked about being a "Prisoner to Christ." I have decided in my heart that I want to be just that. I want to give Him everything I have to offer. I am really looking forward to the service this morning.

They played the tape "A Prisoner." It was sooooo good. Brother Branham talked about everything I had been thinking about lately. I was already a Christian before the camp, but I gave my life to God again today. I am so happy to be a Prisoner for Christ! It was one of the best weekends of my life. Thank You God!

Why did God choose Shepherds?

At the time, it was the greatest event in the history of this world; the birth of our Lord Jesus. He would be the One that would save us from Satan. Jesus was the One Who the prophets spoke about. He was God made flesh, and He was about to be born!

When God wanted to announce His coming, He could have went to the big, expensive churches, or to the high priest of the day. He could have gone to tell the local villagers or even the local hospital to let the doctors know to get ready. But God does things in unexpected ways; He had another plan. Jesus wasn't going to be born in some pretty hospital room, but in a dirty manger full of smelly animals.

God found some shepherds herding their sheep on a hillside. They were poor, smelly men who didn't know about anything except sheep. They lived, ate, and drank with the sheep. Brother Branham said they even laughed like sheep! But they were who God chose to tell that Jesus was about to be born.

God wouldn't come to the educated people of that day, but to the poor humble shepherds. They would believe Him, the others would not. The rich, popular people would probably have to hold their noses from the smell in the manger, but the shepherds felt right at home there.

The Angel of the Lord came down and told the shepherds that this was the day that The Christ would be born. It was the best news the world had ever heard, and God chose them to hear it first.

The shepherds quickly got to Joseph and Mary. There they saw Him laying in that dirty manger; it was Jesus! They worshipped Him, and told Joseph and Mary about the Angel of the Lord's visit. When they left, they just kept on glorifying God for all the things they had seen and heard.

You can read this story in Luke, chapter 2.

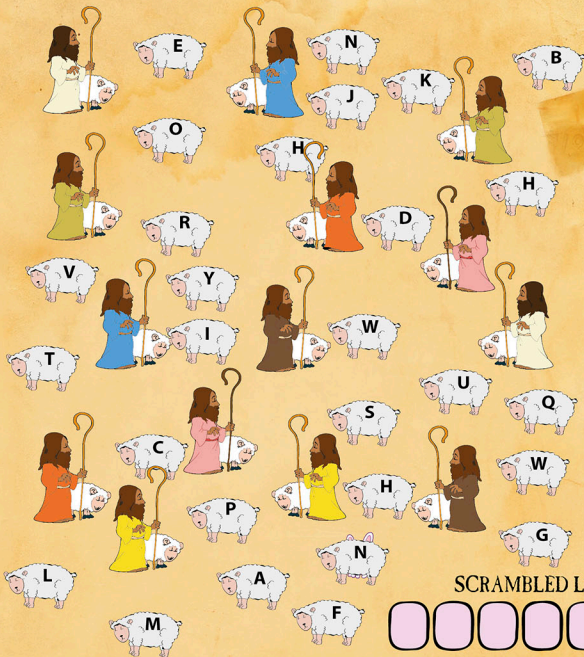

"When they found the baby, what a joy it must have been to them. Because the Angel that gave them the message, they found it just exactly the way the Angel said it would be, and just in the place where the Angel said it would be. What a thing that must have been to them!

In a manger, why? See how at ease these herdsmen was in the stable? What do you think a theologian would have been in there? He'd have put a pin over his nose, and said, 'Get me out of this place.' See? He would have been so out of place, he'd been in misery.

But, you see, it was 'just at home' to the shepherd. God knows where to send His Message." 64-1221

DANIEL

The presidents and princes of Babylon assembled themselves together before the king. They had made a plan to try to destroy God's prophet by establishing a royal law in the land. The king signed the new decree, that whosoever should ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, other than the king, would be cast into the den of lions.

There were only a few righteous men in the entire land at this time, and the prophet Daniel was one of them. As always, Daniel went into the chamber of his home, with the windows opened toward Jerusalem, and prayed three times a day. No decree of man was going to stop him from speaking to his one true God as he did before.

The evil Babylonian rulers found Daniel praying before his God, and went straight to tell the king. The king was very displeased with himself, because he knew Daniel was a righteous man, but there was nothing he could do to stop his own law.

King Darius commanded that Daniel be cast into the lion's den, but first he said to Daniel, "Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee." A stone was brought and laid at the mouth of the den, and Daniel was left alone in the darkness with hungry lions.

Daniel went into the lions' den without fear, because he believed God was able to protect and deliver him. The hungry lions went after him, but there was something near God's anointed servant that scared them away. God had sent a mighty Angel down to shut the mouths of the lions and protect His faithful prophet.

Early the next morning, King Darius came to the lions' den to find that the God who Daniel served was able to deliver him from the lions. This made the king very happy, and he commanded for Daniel to be taken out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.

The Word Of God

by: Ima Christian

Hi everyone, my name is Ima and I'm writing a report about the Word of God. I've already learned that God speaks through His prophets, but I need some help finding out which Scriptures go where. Please help me fill in the blanks by using the Scriptures from the list.

Deuteronomy 8:3

1 Kings 21:19

Jeremiah

The Word Of God

I intend to prove that God's prophets refer back to what those prophets who came before them have said. I know this is true because I can read about it in the Bible.

For my first example, I will use Micaiah the prophet. Micaiah knew what the prophet Elijah said about Ahab in _____, when he said "shall dogs lick thy blood" So when he was called upon to foretell whether or not King Ahab should fight against Ramoth Gilead, he knew that it would be the end of Ahab.

For my second example I would like to refer you to the prophet Daniel. In the Book of Daniel, Chapter 9, Verse 2, he said that he "understood" from the books of _____.

And for my last example I would like to refer to our Lord Jesus, Himself, in the Book of Matthew, Chapter 4, Verse 4. When Satan tempted Him and asked if He could turn these stones to bread, Jesus answered and quoted Moses in the Scripture _____.

These are just three of many, many examples of when prophets referred back to what other prophets have said. So, in conclusion, these three examples have proven that prophets of God do indeed refer back to what other prophets have spoken before them.

When Brother Branham read the Bible, he read the exact same words that we read. And he knew, just like us, that the early prophets spoke the Word of God. Brother Branham relied on the words of those prophets, just like we should. But we get an extra blessing. We can actually hear the voice of a prophet! Every time you turn on Brother Branham's voice, you are hearing the Voice of God speaking through His prophet. It would be the same as listening to God speak through Moses, or Jeremiah, or Daniel. The prophets are God's Voice speaking to us.

“And I say to this, to my class tonight: Should we believe our prophets? Yes, sir. For the Word of the Lord came to the prophets. They have THUS SAITH THE LORD. And a true prophet will never vary from the--the other prophet's word. They'll never make It say something that It doesn't say. They'll say just exactly what the true prophet said. That makes them a prophet.”

Worship IN THE Woods

Brother Branham loved to get out in the woods and worship God. One time he was high up in the mountains enjoying God's creation, when a big storm blew through the area. When the storm was over, he looked around and saw God everywhere. The sunlight was moving along the crevices of the rock, as a beautiful rainbow formed across the valley. The sound of bugling elk filled the air.

Brother Branham sat his rifle against a tree as tears began to roll down his cheeks. God was in His creation, and there was Something calling to His prophet to worship Him. Then Brother Branham heard an old gray wolf howl down to its mate. You talk about crying, he couldn't hold himself anymore. God was screaming out to him through nature.

He began to run around and around a tree, screaming to the top of his voice. If someone would have come by there they would've thought he was completely crazy, but he didn't care; he was worshipping God!

Brother Branham had something inside him that just loved to worship God. God put that desire in his heart, just like He put it in your heart. You may not get to experience the wilderness like Brother Branham did, but you can see the same God that he saw. Just look around and you'll find Him. He is there waiting for you to come and worship.

Brother Branham tells this story many times. One place you can hear it is on the tape SHOW US THE FATHER AND IT'LL SATISFY US. 53-0610

What was the greatest Gift ever given?

Stare at the two white circles at the top of the page with your nose touching the paper. Slowly pull it away from you, without refocusing your eyes. Eventually it will look like there are three circles, and you will have a feeling of depth. Then look at the sky in the picture to find the answer.

GOD'S CREATIONS

RABBIT

"You know, the rabbit just survives where he's at, and God makes him a pair of snowshoes in October, and he just hops right on top of the snow. God feeds him on top of the snow. Because something tells him, "Stay there and wait." He ain't got no shoes yet, but God will provide the shoes, if he will just wait. The snowshoe rabbit dances right around on top the ground eating fine tender buds off the top of the trees and stays home. Certainly."

BITS

A female rabbit is a "doe."

A male rabbit is a "buck."

A group of rabbits is called a "herd."

WHY SUCH BIG FEET?

A tiny 4 pound rabbit and a 20 pound dog will drink the same amount of water in one day.

JUMPING

The world record for the rabbit long jump is 3 meters. That's over 9 feet!

PLAYING

When rabbits are happy, they will jump and twist. This is called a binky.

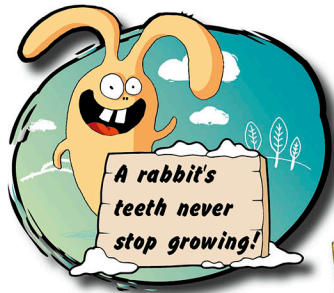

RUNNING

Rabbits can run about 35 miles per hour.

In the United States there are 12 species of rabbits. The eastern cottontail is the most common.

Rabbits can see behind themselves, but have a blind spot right in front of their face. We figure they would have to drive backwards to see the road!

Rabbits inhabit every continent with the exception of Antarctica.

National Rabbit Week is the third week in July.

If predators are around rabbits they can literally scare the rabbits to death!

Rabbits chew 120 times a minute and have over 17,000 taste buds.

Biscuit and the bunny

I looked outside to check how the kids were playing and noticed my daughter sitting on the ground, hovering over something, crying. I went outside to see that she was comforting a baby rabbit that was mauled by my parents' dog (Biscuit). I knelt down by her and asked what happened and she began to tell me the story.

"Well daddy," she said, "I was playing when I noticed Biscuit chasing something in the bushes. Then all of a sudden a baby rabbit took off running. Biscuit grabbed the small rabbit and bit down and I heard the rabbit squeak. I started saying, 'No Biscuit, no...'" Finally she dropped it on the driveway after biting it a few more times."

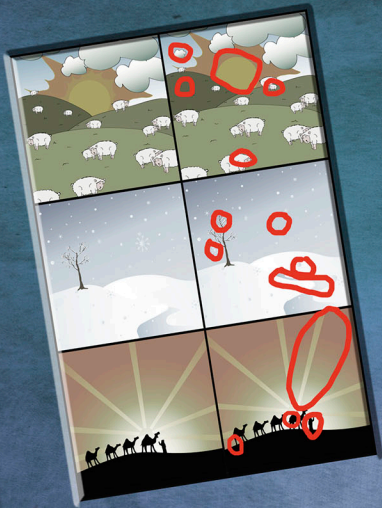

The poor little rabbit was all tore up and barely breathing and I asked my little girl, "Did you pray for the little thing?" She said, "I prayed with my finger on its forehead." I said "Well, it is in Jesus' hands now."

About this time the little rabbit was just breathing about every 30 seconds or so until it stopped. My little girl said, "Daddy, is it because my faith that it died?" This shook my heart to see her crying and to see how much she wanted that bunny to live. She said again, "Was it because I did not have enough faith?" And as soon as she said that, the dead rabbit jumped up and took off running. We were in shock, me and her, but the rabbit was not in the clear. Biscuit ran over and grabbed the rabbit in her mouth again and was biting. I got Biscuit to drop the miracle bunny, and we laid it back down. We thought for sure now that the little guy wasn't going to make it, then all of a sudden, the little feller took off running just like nothing ever happened. I am 100% sure that my daughter had enough faith!!!! I saw a miracle take place with my very own eyes. We are in the process of training Biscuit to be vegetarian.....
