The Holy Spirit

Welcome to Cub Corner Magazine

This issue is dedicated to the Holy Spirit. You hear people talk about It and you know that It's a good Thing, but do you really know what It is?

Hopefully reading through these pages will help you understand the Holy Spirit a little better; but remember, we can't give the Holy Spirit to you, that's up to God. The good thing is, that God wants you to have It, in fact, It's His Gift to you!

We hope that you enjoy this issue, and that it brings you closer to our Lord Jesus Christ.

Your friend,
Brother Joseph

THE Holy SPIRIT

TIMID - adj. Being nervous, jumpy or skittish.

"You let it get out of order, and watch how quick the Holy Spirit takes a flight. Oh, It's timid."

Can the Holy Spirit come with you?

We know that the Holy Spirit is an actual Being; It is a Gift from God that comes into your heart. But did you know that the Holy Spirit is timid? It's like a deer in the woods, or a bird that wants a piece of bread, but won't get close enough to eat out of your hand. It is quick to leave if It's not comfortable.

The way that you carry yourself and the decisions that you make every day either invite the Holy Spirit into your life, or turn It away. What may seem like small decisions, like the one that Nellie Sanders made (Just a minute, pg. 20) can make the Holy Spirit flee as quickly as a frightened sparrow.

On the other hand, this timid Spirit is constantly searching for a willing heart. No matter what you have done or where you have been, It wants to return to you. All that It needs is an invitation and a place to dwell where It can be comfortable. The Holy Spirit wants you to get quiet before God, think about Him, and study His Word.

Remember that every day you will make decisions that will either invite the Holy Spirit or make It flee. As you go through your day, be aware of Its presence. Make the Holy Spirit comfortable by praying, reading your Bible, and listening to God's prophet. Enjoy your own "Quiet Time" just like the Still Waters' campers did this year at camp.

During your daily life, make your heart a welcome place for this timid Spirit. Ask yourself, "Am I going to places, doing things, and talking in a way that the Holy Spirit will come with me, or do I have to leave It at the door?"

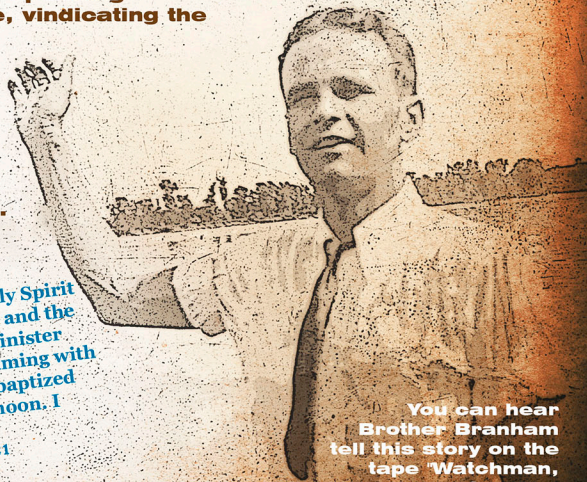

the Voice at the river

IT WAS JUNE 16, 1933, another hot, dry day in Southern Indiana. A young minister, Brother William Branham, was holding his first revival where more than three thousand people attended.

It was two o'clock in the afternoon when a young man named Edward Colvin approached Brother Branham. Young Edward had been up at the altar the other night and now he wanted to be baptized in the Name of Jesus Christ. A young Sister, Hope Brumbach, was snapping pictures from the shoreline. The skies were brassy, the corn was withered up, thirsting for rain, but the people were thirsting for God.

Just then there came a Voice, "As John the Baptist was sent for a forerunner of the first coming of Jesus Christ, your Message will bring the second coming of Jesus Christ." The people began to scream, and many of them even fainted!

It was the Holy Spirit speaking directly to the people, vindicating the Message brought by His prophet. That same Holy Spirit is still with us today, and the voice of that same prophet is being played all over the world to God's chosen people.

“And about that time, the Holy Spirit swept down across that bank, and the entire congregation of that minister walked out in the river, screaming with their good clothes on. And I baptized every one of them that afternoon. I mean every one of them.”

Still small VOICE

I AM THANKFUL FOR LISTENING TO THE STILL, SMALL VOICE.

I was jumping on the trampoline with my little sister. I got hot and took off my coat and threw it down on the rocks beside the trampoline. We went to play somewhere else. I looked at my coat and thought, "I had better take it in or Mommy will be upset." But I felt like something told me to just leave it there until later.

We started jumping on the trampoline, a bit later, and we were running around the edge of the trampoline, when my little sister got dizzy and fell off the side, head first. She landed with her head right on my big, soft coat, and wasn't hurt one bit. She would have been hurt real bad if my coat hadn't been there. I'm glad Jesus helped my little sister.

MISSIONARY STORY CONTEST

In our last magazine we requested you to send in missionary stories. We received roughly three bazillion of them.

THESE ARE THE WINNERS

THE MISSIONARY EXPERIENCE I would like to write about started as an ordinary family vacation. We were going with our Mexican friends to Puerta Penasco, Mexico, for the weekend. When we packed, we made sure to bring lots of Spanish tapes and books to hand out, if we could.

We handed out several books and tapes the first day. One experience I remember, that was interesting, was when a lady just walked up to our car and told us she was going to have a major surgery and wanted us to pray for her. We, of course, prayed for her, and gave her the Message.

The second night, my dad got a very bad migraine headache. It was so bad that he finally decided to venture out to try and find some place open where he could get some medicine. The only place open was a little gas station. He parked his car and went in and bought some Tylenol.

When he returned to the car, he saw a Mexican man trying to get into our car. He thought the man was trying to break in, and he quickly went over to him.

The man was startled, and started speaking in Spanish. My dad didn't speak Spanish, so through gesturing, it was discovered the man's car was just down from our car, and was the same color. The man had just got the wrong car. When he turned to leave, Dad noticed he had two worn out Brother Branham books in his hand. Daddy quickly unlocked our car and got out one of our Spanish books, and ran it to the man. The man became very excited and rattled off a string of Spanish words which Dad couldn't understand. Through hand movements and a few Spanish words, Dad went back to the motel, to get the Mexican brother we were traveling with, while the man waited in the parking lot. When he returned, it was discovered that two years prior, the man had been given that Brother Branham book. It was all he had, and he loved it so much he had pulled his family out of the Catholic Church to just read from the book on Sundays. He had been praying for more as he did not know how to get them. When he heard there were many tapes and more books, he was overjoyed. He was given lots of tapes and books, and contact information for the Mexico distributor for The Voice Of God Recordings. By the way, dad's headache disappeared without even taking the medication.

AGO"

ONE TIME WHEN MY MOM AND DAD WENT CAMPING, before I was born, they met a really nice elderly man. The man was retired and would stay in his motor home for the season. He was out one day walking his dog when my mom saw him and gave him a Brother Branham book. He was grateful for it, and went on his way. Several weeks later, when my mom and dad were camping again, this man came up to my mom. He asked my mom if she had another one of Brother Branham's books. My mom gave him another as he explained to her that his wife had misplaced the other book. His wife wanted another one. He proceeded to tell my mom that years ago his wife was in a car accident and was in the hospital. Come to find out, Brother Branham had read about her accident in the newspaper, and he went to the hospital and prayed for her. She was healed!

"READ OF ALL MEN"

MY MISSIONARY EXPERIENCE happened a few years ago when I was younger. My mom always tells me to be on my best behavior in public because everyone watches us. She says we may be the only real Christians they will ever see, and they should want to be like us.

It was my mom's birthday and she had a gift certificate given to her by a friend for a very fancy restaurant. We decided to all go together as a family. We were seated at the restaurant around many high class, fancy people. My brother and sister and myself were on our very best polite behavior. After we ate and left the restaurant, a couple of very rich women were waiting outside on a bench for us. They came up and told us their story. They said when we walked in the restaurant, they got very upset that their meal was going to be ruined by children. We had sat right across from them. They had even asked the waiter to move them but it wasn't possible. They were amazed at our good behavior. They said it ended up being one of their best meals and just had to wait for us to come out to comment on how good we were. It turned into an opportunity to witness to those women. We talked to them for a long time and gave them books and tapes. The Bible says we are written epistles, read of all men.

U^{the}pper ROOM

JESUS appeared to the believers for forty straight days after He had risen from the grave. At the end of the forty days, He told the apostles to remain in Jerusalem and "wait for the promise of the Father... For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence."

Jesus' disciples didn't know what was going to happen, but they knew enough to do exactly what Jesus told them. So they went to Jerusalem and gathered together in an upper room. There were 120 of them, all together. They weren't yet sure what it was they were waiting for, but everyone completely agreed that they needed to wait, exactly like Jesus had told them.

After a while some of them started to feel really good. One of the disciples may have said to Peter, "You know what? I had a little funny feeling the other day, that must have been the Holy Ghost."

"But you know, Something tells me that it ain't right yet." Peter replied to him, So they continued to wait.

Then it happened. Suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a rushing mighty wind! Little forked Tongues of Fire, just like the One in the Pillar of Fire picture, came down and sat upon each of them. They were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues. They were being blessed by God!

The group went out and began to tell everyone about Jesus, and the power that He had given them. Lots of different people, who spoke many different languages heard them speak, but everyone heard them in their own language. It was a miracle! Many, many people believed them, but even still, some people made fun of them.

Peter stood up and told the people that what they were witnessing had been prophesied by the prophet Joel hundreds of years ago. He told them about David, and how he had prophesied about Jesus raising from the grave.

The people believed Peter and asked him what they needed to do. Peter answered with these famous words:

"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the Name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call."

That wonderful day, about three thousand people began to believe in Jesus, and that was just the beginning. Since then, many, many more people have given their life to Jesus.

Did you know that the same Holy Ghost that appeared on that day is still here? It sure is, and It has the same power It had when Peter and the other disciples got It. The best news of all is that It's for you, too. The same exact Holy Ghost that came to Jesus' disciples is here today. You can get It just like they did back then. Just follow the instructions that God left us, and the Holy Spirit will fill you up, just like It did those in the upper room, 2,000 years ago.

you can read this story in Acts 1 and 2 here once was a great and powerful king named Ahasuerus. He ruled his kingdom with his beautiful queen, Vashti.

One night the king was celebrating, and he decided to call for the queen to come and join him. But in an act of disrespect, she refused to see him. This was a huge insult to the king. Brother Branham said that it's a lot like people today. When Christ calls for us, many are ashamed and won't come to him.

The king decided that Queen Vashti was not to be queen any longer. He would choose a new bride; one that would honor and obey him. The king's helpers searched the entire kingdom for a suitable queen for their leader. They found a beautiful young lady named Hadassah, but she was to be called Esther. Her cousin, Mordecai, raised her from the time her parents had died. She was a Jew, but no one in the king's palace knew it.

Esther was different than all the other girls, she didn't care about all the jewels and worldly adornment that the other women wanted, she just wanted to have the right spirit in her heart.

When the time finally came to meet the king, all of the girls dressed in the finest jewels they could find. They wanted to impress the king, but they were too concerned about what their outside looked like, and not concerned enough about their inner spirit. But, once again, Esther was different.

She refused the worldly things, and instead kept her mind on the spirit in her heart.

Once King Ahasuerus met the beautiful Esther, he immediately fell in love with her. It wasn't because of the way she dressed or any fancy jewels, because all of the other girls had that; it was her spirit that the king loved.

Once she became queen, their love for each other continued to grow. They were very happy, but the whole time, the Devil had been working too. A man named Haman hated the Jews and wanted them all dead. The king had given Haman great power, and he was planning on using it to kill the Jews. The evil Haman made a decree saying that on a certain day, all the Jews should be killed, even the women and children!

Queen Esther's cousin, Mordecai, knew about Haman and he sent word to Esther about his wicked plan. She didn't know what to do. The law said that she couldn't speak to the king unless he invited her to; if she went to him uninvited, she could be killed, herself! After praying about it, Esther sent word back to her cousin to have all the Jews pray and fast, because she would risk her life and approach the king, uninvited.

The Lord answered the prayers of her people, because when she finally approached the king, he lowered his sceptre to her as a sign that she had received favor. She was allowed to speak. She asked the king to join her at a private dinner, with just her and Haman. At the dinner, she told the king of Haman's evil plan, and she admitted to him that she was a Jew. The good king quickly put an end to Haman and his plan to kill the Jews, and he gave Mordecai the authority that Haman once had.

Because of Esther's concern for the spirit inside her, God used her to make a way for the Jewish people to escape Haman's evil plan. As Christians, we should be like Queen Esther. We should always look to what's inside first, and make sure our heart is a good home for the Holy Spirit. Then we can approach our King with meekness and respect, and the Lord can use you, just like he used Queen Esther.

"Esther was to become a bride, so she didn't want none of the adorning of the world. She wanted to go in, to the king, just like she was. She adorned herself like the pentecostal women ought to, with a meek humble spirit. And when all these fancy, first ladies come by, with all their new fandangle things, the king looked at them, and put them in the chamber with the concubines. But when this Esther come into his sight, and he got a glimpse of that sweet, humble, meek spirit, he said, "That's her. Go get the crown and put it on her head." That's it.

Let them adorn themselves with that kind of a spirit, not only the women, but the men, too, adorn themselves with that kind of a spirit. Then you're becoming ready for the—the Bride, sweet, reverent. Esther made her heart clean."

Nellie Sanders was a dancer, and an excellent one at that. In fact, she and a man named Lee Horn were a couple of the best dancers in the country. They won all kinds of awards and were very popular, but deep down inside, little Nellie knew that Something was missing in her life. One night she staggered into one of Brother Branham's meetings - that night she found out what It was that she was missing.

There she laid at the altar with her hand raised up and tears running down her cheeks, "Billy, I want to be saved, so bad," she cried. Brother Branham told her that Jesus already saved her and she just needs to accept it now upon the basis of His Word. She stayed there until, all at once, a sweet peace came over her soul. She had found that "Something" that she needed, and It was Jesus.

She decided right then that she would never listen to that awful, worldly music again, and she was going to stop hanging around the dance hall. She was changed; now she wanted a godly, Christian life.

Brother Branham had an old friend with a really bad habit. His name was Wayne Bledsoe, and he liked to drink alcohol. It was a horrible, nasty habit that caused Wayne to get drunk and act badly. One night, Brother Branham saw that Wayne had been drinking.

"Wayne, aren't you ashamed of yourself like that?" Brother Branham asked him.

"Uh, Billy, don't talk to me like that," Wayne mumbled. Brother Branham didn't want the police to take Wayne to jail, so he picked him up and took him to his home. Then, all at once, someone started banging on the door.

KNOCK, KNOCK, KNOCK! "Brother Bill! Brother Bill!" she yelled.

Brother Branham ran to open the door, it sounded like a woman that was in trouble. It was Nellie. "Oh, Brother Billy, I'm - I'm - I'm gone! I'm gone!" she said.

Brother Branham tried to calm her down while she told her story of what happened.

Nellie said she was coming down the street when she walked past the old dance hall. Then she heard that music and started to remember the time when she was such a great dancer. She stopped for just a minute to think about those things. It wasn't long before she found herself out on that dance floor once again, listening to the ungodly music just like she did before she accepted Jesus into her life. When she finally realized what she was doing, she was devastated. She thought she would be lost for good, now. That's when she got to Brother Branham as fast as she could.

Brother Branham was just a young man, and hadn't been a minister very long, but he knew that Jesus said "In My Name they shall cast out devils." So he spoke directly to that devil that had gotten into young Nellie. "Now, devil, I don't know who you are, but I'm telling you now, this is my sister, and you ain't got no business with holding her. She didn't mean to do that. She just stopped for a minute, but you're going to have to come out of her. You hear me?"

Just then, the screen door began opening and shutting by itself. Nellie said, "Bill, look at there."

"Leave her, Satan! In Jesus' Name, come out of her!" Brother Branham said.

Just then, a great big, hideous thing that looked like a bat, with long hair hanging down out of its wings and feet, rose up from behind Nellie. The evil thing came right at Brother Branham. He looked at it and said, "O Lord God, the Blood of Jesus Christ protect me from that." It circled around and went down behind the bed and disappeared. Wayne, the drunk man, saw it and took off, as fast as he could, to the other room!

That evil devil got into Nellie Sanders that night at the dance hall because she stopped for a moment because of that bad music. If she would have just heard the music and never stopped to listen to it, that devil could have never gotten to her. So the next time you see something that is wrong, don't even stop for a minute. Just keep moving and keep that awful devil away from you!

AFTER MUCH RESEARCH WE FINALLY FOUND OUT WHERE MOPS COME FROM...

A BRAHAM LINCOLN was born in the mountains of Kentucky on February 12th, 1809, in a small log cabin, just like Brother Branham. His birth date was one-hundred years before Brother Branham's, and he was born approximately one-hundred miles from where Brother Branham was born. Both were born in Kentucky, and both moved to Indiana at a very young age.

In Brother Branham's opinion, Abraham Lincoln was "one of the greatest men that Kentucky ever produced," and he was his favorite of all the presidents. It was because of his godly character and stand for what was right that earned his respect from Brother Branham. Some of the only books Abraham Lincoln had until he was a grown man were the Bible, and Pilgrim's Progress, two of Brother Branham's favorite books.

"IN REGARD TO THIS GREAT BOOK, I HAVE BUT TO SAY, IT IS THE BEST GIFT GOD HAS GIVEN TO MAN. ALL THE GOOD THE SAVIOR GAVE TO THE WORLD WAS COMMUNICATED THROUGH THIS BOOK."

- ABRAHAM LINCOLN
(SPEAKING ABOUT THE BIBLE)

It was his godly mother and these books that helped to mold his character into a faithful believer in God throughout his life.

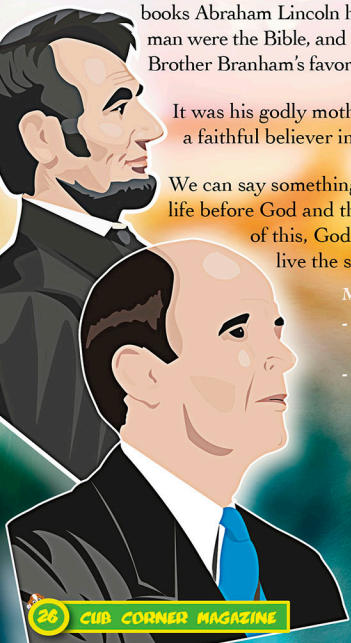

We can say something similar about Brother Branham's life. He lived a holy life before God and the people, always doing only what the Bible said. Because of this, God, used him to bring us a perfect Message so that we could live the same kind of hidden life in Christ.

MORE FUN FACTS:

- Brother Branham and Abraham Lincoln also went to Heaven exactly 100 years apart, both at the age of 56.
- Both of their first and last names have 7 letters in them.

"WHAT YOU READ, WHAT YOU DO, MOLDS YOUR CHARACTER. IT--IT TELLS WHAT YOU ARE. AND NOW, YOU SEE HE READ WHERE 'IF YOU DID WRONG, YOU PAID FOR IT; IF YOU DID RIGHT, GOD WOULD HONOR IT,' AND THAT MOLDED HIM WHAT HE WAS."
